Death-Row Pharmacist Concocts Solution To Human Aging

Dr. Lovoï's Bimini Cosmetics Boasts That,
"The secret to youthful skin has been discovered!"

A Houston-area pharmacist who worked for years to devise concoctions to stop human aging dead in its tracks may have discovered the ultimate solution to this age-old problem. Dr. Jasper Lavoï, who founded the anti-aging Bimini Cosmetics, also heads the Woodlands Compounding Pharmacy, which recently supplied the nation's busiest death row with pentobarbital for lethal injections.

"Everyone wants beautiful, youthful, healthy looking skin," says the Bimini Cosmetics website, "and now with Bimini Cosmetics...that goal is within reach." Last week the federal government officially confirmed this claim. Ruling Saturday on the constitutionality of using Dr. Lavoï's pentobarbital to execute triple-murderer Michael Yowell, U.S. District Judge Lynn Hughes held that Lovoï's "Pentobarbital will kill Yowell in five to eighteen minutes," arresting the human aging process—once and for all.
